

TO BRING PRESSURE

CUBA LIBRE HAD A GOOD SOLEMN FIXED UP.

Which was to Camp Under McKinley's Window on Independence Day and Make speeches in Behalf of the Islanders—But the Man in Charge of the Grounds Recklessly Voted the Plan—Secretary Alger Gives People Bound for Madrid a Straight Tip to Leave Their Wives and Babies at Home.

Washington, July 3.—The patriotic labor meeting which was to have been held July 4 on the White House lot near the executive mansion, will have to be held at some other place. Colonel Bingham, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, has learned that the real object of the meeting was to discuss the Cuban question. A. A. Aguirre, a former member of the Cuban Junta, conceived the idea of holding a mass meeting to appeal for free Cuba, almost at the very doors of the White House. A portrait was secured by a labor organization, and it was supposed that only a meeting of patriotic laborers was to be held. When Colonel Bingham learned the real object of the meeting he ordered that the permit be revoked.

DANGER IN MADRID.
Washington, July 3.—There was quite a flurry of interest in the Cuban question in town last night when it became known that Secretary Alger had indicated to Captain Tasker R. Bliss, who will shortly go to Madrid as military attaché to the American legation there, that it would be inadvisable to take Mrs. Bliss and her children with him because of the possibility of trouble. Lieutenant George L. Dyer, the naval attaché, also proposes to go to Madrid accompanied by any member of his family.

These developments are generally accepted as an indication that the administration expects more or less excitement during the coming autumn, or as soon as Minister Woodford shall have an opportunity to present the demands of this government to the Spanish court. It was also developed today that Consul General Lee is expected to arrive in Washington during the next two weeks. He will not return to Cuba. General Lee's home coming will be in season to admit of consultation between him and General Woodford.

SHE'S HAVING A GOOD TIME
Only Mrs. Ward is Grieved That Her Husband Doesn't Give Chase.

San Francisco, Cal., July 3.—Mrs. Bradbury, the wife of a Los Angeles millionaire, who eloped with H. Russell Ward, now talks freely of her escapade. She and Ward have taken room in a lodging house in the Tenderloin district, and after ordering a meal from a French restaurant, she said:

"You may call this either a love match or a scandal. I prefer to call it a romance. Colonel Bradbury was a kind husband, but I have happiness with Mr. Ward. He can support me and I have no fear of desertion."

Mrs. Bradbury denies that she pawned all her jewels, but she admits the shortage of ready money. She proposes to have a good time, and seems surprised that her capitalist husband has not pursued her. Mr. Ward prefers not to talk about his wife and children, who are now abroad.

SEMITIC SCHOLAR LEADS THEM
Russian Hebrews seek a Refuge From Persecution in California.

San Francisco, Cal., July 3.—The advance guard of a Russian Jewish colony for California, consisting of thirty-five men, under the guidance of Ephraim Denard, the promoter of the colonization scheme, left Philadelphia last Sunday and will arrive in this city today, having stopped on the way one day because they would not travel on the Sabbath. The thirty-five men represent a colony of 150 families, with about 1,200 souls, who are to settle on government land in California. Denard is a Semitic scholar and a writer of some prominence and has taken a deep interest in the condition of this persecuted and oppressed co-religionists in Russia.

HISTORIC FORT MACKINAC
Movement on Foot to Restore it as a Mill.

Mackinac Island, Mich., July 3.—Colonel Snyder of the Nineteenth Infantry, stationed at Detroit, has been for a couple of days under orders from the war department inspecting the historic Fort Mackinac, and making an estimate of what it will cost to renovate the fort and buildings to fit them for occupancy again by troops. This is a primary step looking toward the re-establishment of the fort by the United States government, and is in accordance with an offer of the legislature to return the fort for this purpose. The war department has the matter under consideration, and it can not get until Colonel Snyder's report is received, as the first requisite for such action is an appropriation by congress.

THERE ARE SOCIALISTS IN KANSAS
They Have Organized at Fort Scott and Expect to Spread.

Fort Scott, Kan., July 3.—After a month of quiet preliminary the Socialists of this vicinity have organized a society here which has developed a significant move on the part of the advocates of that system of government. The organization just formed is known as the Bourbon County Socialist society, but the object is to extend its influence throughout this corner of the state and the mining districts of southwestern Missouri. C. Lippcomb, a bookkeeper for a big house in this city, was elected president, and M. M. Jones, manager of a grocery house, was elected secretary. Lippcomb has no political history here, but Jones is a prominent Populist, who has just left the party. There are indications that the national Socialists are behind the movement to organize this territory. Funds are at hand for the dissemination of literature and an official Socialist organ has been started at Girard, in Crawford county. This paper will be scattered each week through the homes of voters in this county. The meeting was a private one, only leaders of the movement having been invited. Quite a number of farmers attended. The secretary announces that the organizers have assurances of 500 members in the county, and that the work of creating socialist sentiment will be vigorously prosecuted from now on.

BELIEVERS IN WITCHCRAFT
Ignorant Villagers in Germany Demand a Little Girl's Death.

New York, July 3.—Among the passengers of the German steamship Havel, which arrived here yesterday, there was a young German doctor of law, who tells an astonishing story of witch-baiting in Germany. The case has only just been disposed of by the high criminal court of Stuttgart.

The wives of two of the most prominent adherents of the village of Wismar were charged with criminal libel for declaring the 13-year-old daughter of the village innkeeper to be a witch, and for inciting the people of the town to burn her at the stake. The girl, it so appeared, was hysterical, and for this reason alone was declared to be responsible for all cases of sickness in the village, as well as for bad weather, ruined crops and all possible ailments among the cows and sheep of the country.

Everybody was convinced that all these calamities were due to the witchery of the unhappy girl, but to make assurance more sure, a gypsy soothsayer was consulted, who, in return for a fee of 100 marks, promptly discovered in her turn that the girl was a wicked witch. After more money was forthcoming the gypsies agreed to exorcise the witch, and when the girl objected to this she was remonstrated with by the village priest, while there were loud calls for the stake. The girl's father became so alarmed at all this that he sent to the city for police protection, and as a result a number of the rioters were imprisoned on charges of criminal libel. During the trial, which has just ended in the conviction and punishment of the ringleaders, it appeared from the testimony that not only this one girl but some half dozen women of the community were suspected of witchcraft by their neighbors.

SPANKED BY AMAZONS

Smart Aleck Spanish Officer Doesn't Have

Havana, Cuba, July 3.—The Cubans here, and Spanish as well, are extracting much amusement from the plight of a young Spanish officer named Rojas, who suffered a crushing defeat, and physical punishment besides, the other day at the hands of a company of women. What makes the matter the more galling to the young officer is his prominence and bragadocho ways. He came over from Spain recently, and his very haughty manner, rather disgusted even his companions, who are noted for their "Spanish laughiness."

This youngster had the war settled when he came over, and he confided to many of his brother officers how badly he wanted to get into a fight with these insurgents, just to show them how Spanish officers fought. He was sent out from Santa Clara one day recently with 200 troops to raid a camp of pacifists. In that section there are a number of companies of Amazons in the insurgent ranks. They are women who can be nurses or soldiers, as occasion requires. Near this camp there happened to be about seventy-five of these women. They heard of the approach of Rojas, but did not have time to send for aid. Their leader, a big, brawny woman named Marayo, took charge of the camp, enrolled between thirty and forty pacifists in her command of women and set a trap for the Spanish.

When the government troops approached they saw a lot of women by the banks of the stream, washing. According to their custom, they broke ranks and ran down to make their acquaintance, never suspecting any trouble. As they approached a blaze of fire burst through the undergrowth, killing a large number. The seeming washerwomen picked up their guns from the grass and began coolly picking off the flying troops, who made an attempt to rally, but in vain. The Amazons followed up their advantage and vigorously pursued the enemy, securing sixteen prisoners among them. Captain Rojas, to cap the climax, as they had heard of his boasts of what he intended to do with prisoners whom he captured, the dozen of them held the captain, and he was well birched with the flat of their machetes, in the American method. His uniform was slashed all to pieces, and in this plight he was taken near to Santa Clara and let loose. All but four of his men were killed. The latter have been recognized as well-known violators of Cuban women, the Amazons tied them to trees and killed them.

The Spanish camp soon learned of the details of the captain's adventure, and it became the by-word of the army how the women had "spanked" him. Santa Clara became too hot to hold him, and he came to Havana last week, and will soon sail for Spain, having obtained leave of absence. As he is well known and his defeat has made a story more widespread, and the correspondents of the Madrid papers cabled it over yesterday.

Soldiers are sacking houses and insulting respectable people at Elvedado, near Havana. An American family has been robbed of all their jewels, valued at $2,000. Six more houses were sacked last night.

General Ruiz Rivera has at last been poisoned. He is reported dying. He had been taken to San Antonio hospital. A large number of the army have been his friends. His room is very small and surrounded by fifty or sixty lunatics. The noise is great and he suffers very much. The Cuban doctor has not been allowed to examine him, and he has been asked to be permitted to see Ruiz Rivera. This was not granted.

A most shameful outrage has been committed by order of the general government. Several children have been sent to jail for some days. They are: Modest Camacho, 5 years; Felino Camacho, 6; Antonio Camacho, 8; Catalina Perez and Pastora Reyes, women; Maria Reyes, 8; Christobal Reyes, 5; Dominga Rodriguez, 12; Jose Rodriguez, 7; and Florentino Rodriguez, 5.

THAT PERALTA REAVIS GAUNT
New Suit Filed for Four Times the Original Area.

Santa Fe, N. M., July 3.—E. A. Garza, an attorney, who has offices at San Antonio, Tex., and Monterey, Mexico, has been here for some days, preparing to file in the United States court of private land claims a suit for the Peralta grant in Arizona and Southern New Mexico that far eclipses the same grant made to the late Adolph Peralta-Reavis maintained with such consummate skill for years, until it finally landed him behind prison bars. Attorney Garza states that he has discovered the original papers in the grant, and that the area involved, instead of being 12,000,000 acres, as alleged by Peralta-Reavis, is nearer 50,000,000 acres. These original papers, he says, are on file among the ancient Spanish archives at San Luis Potosi, where most of the heirs reside, and from these and other claimants, some 800 in all, residing at San Jose, Los Angeles and other points in California, he has secured power of attorney to prosecute the suit against the government in the United States court of private land claims. He states that the bona fide claimants have known for years the whereabouts of the original documents in the case, and also realized that the Reavis claim was a fraud, but dared it best to permit him to go on unhindered and prosecute his claim to a finish before the land court.

These original papers, says Garza, were taken from Mexico at the time of the revolt against Spanish rule and deposited at Havana, Cuba, afterward being deposited at San Luis Potosi, and the mistake that Reavis made was in searching for them at Madrid, Saville, Spain and Mexico, where, not finding them, he perpetrated forgeries and worked up a conspiracy, which while he is now serving a two years' sentence in the United States prison at Santa Fe.

In this connection it may be added that United States Attorney M. C. Reynolds today appeared in the United States district court here, and on his motion the five indictments still pending against Reavis in connection with the Peralta grant frauds were dismissed. There is one other charge of conspiracy standing against him in this court, in which he was indicted jointly with Miguel Nee and son, of San Francisco, who fled to Mexico a year ago. Reavis' sentence expires in about ten months. As he is an old man, broken in health and a bankrupt, the government officers say they never expect to recover the fine of $50,000 imposed upon him at the time he was sentenced to two years' confinement.

Best and the Cheapest.

"Sweet Sacred Songs" is a choice collection of the finest devotional music now in general use in church choirs and among singers in the home. The selections embody many well-known favorite compositions. There is also a variety of duets, quartettes and anthems, including some of the best modern compositions. The collection embraces about sixty selections, all of a high order of excellence, and many of them the undying work of the master composers of the world. We know of no collection of sacred music now before the public which contains so large a number of the finest compositions in sacred song published at such a moderate price.

A Hold Up...

Is just as reprehensible in an alleged newspaper which takes the money of the advertiser without giving anything in return, and should be punished just as severely as if the "hold-up" had been committed on the public highway by a masked robber in the usual style. The advertiser in every city—Wichita especially—is "held-up" daily by these newspaper (7) sharks—robbers. There is only one way in which to escape them—but that is an easy one—refuse to be duped, and place your advertising in a legitimate newspaper—the Eagle is the leader by many laps in Southern Kansas and Oklahoma, in fact in the Great Southwest.

If you place an advertisement you expect it to be attractive—gotten up in the best style of the printer's art and printed in a clean and legible manner. When this expectation is gratified, you expect readers to read it—and they will surely do so if you place the ad in a newspaper (Definition: Newspaper, a paper that prints the news). It is unnecessary to tell you that if the ad is attractive, the reader reads it; if the reader reads it he is likely to become a purchaser. Here the newspaper releases him and you take him in charge. Your profit is the result of the advertisement well placed.
